DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. In view of the amendment filed 11/16/2004, the Examiner withdraws all objections to the drawings.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 11/16/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that "Tong relates to rate matching, which is used when an input transmission data number is not equal to a possible transmission data number. In contrast, the present invention relates to channel encoding, which is used to recover damaged data in a channel", a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). However, even so, the turbo encoder 90 in Figure 5 of Tong is a Forward Error Correction channel encoder supplying redundant bits to recover damaged data.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "in the present invention, when a bit I is input, an $(I * N \text{ bit (systematic bit } I + I * (n-1))$ is output in the channel encoding with a $1/n$ encoding rate") are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "the present invention processes channel encoding, rate matching and only one interleaving, with a repeater that repeatedly outputs 'predefined bits' among the bits output from the first and second convolution encoders" [Emphasis Added]) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Note nowhere in claim 1 does the Applicant recite, "only one interleaving".

All amendments and arguments by the applicant have been considered. It is the Examiner's conclusion that claims 1-9 are not patentably distinct or non-obvious over the prior art of record in view of the reference, Tong; Wen et al. (US 6744744 B1, hereafter referred to as Tong) as applied in the last office action, filed 08/16/2004.

Therefore, the rejection is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4-6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tong; Wen et al. (US 6744744 B1, hereafter referred to as Tong).

See the Non-Final Action filed 08/16/2004 for detailed action of prior rejections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
4. Claims 3, 7 and 9 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tong; Wen et al. (US 6744744 B1, hereafter referred to as Tong).

See the Non-Final Action filed 08/16/2004 for detailed action of prior rejections.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
